Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group III, claims 1, 2, 4, 10, 13, 14, 16, 22, 32 and 33, in the reply filed on 09/01/2006 is acknowledged.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1, 2, 4, 10, 13, 14, 16, 22, 32 and 33 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3, 5, 6, 9-11 and 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,857,779. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,857,779 contain every element of claims 1, 4, 10, 13, 16, 22, 32 and 33 of the present application and as such anticipates claims 1, 4, 10, 13, 16, 22, 32 and 33 of the present application.

Regarding claims 2 and 14, the claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,857,779 meet the claimed bag except for the bottom end being generally ovoid in shape. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to make the bottom end of U.S. Patent No. 6,857,779 generally ovoid in shape or whatever shape was desired or expedient. A change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results.

4. Claims 1, 2, 4, 10, 13, 14, 16, 22, 32 and 33 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 2 and 4 of U.S. Patent No. 7,011,448. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of U.S. Patent No. 7,011,448 meet the claimed bag except for the bottom end having a generally ovoid shape. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the bottom end of U.S. Patent No. 7,011,448 with a generally ovoid shape since it was known in the art that bags having a bottom end of generally ovoid shape permit the bag to be supported in an upright position.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3727

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1, 10, 13 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,687,848 to Scholz et al. See Fig. 12.

Scholz et al. discloses bag comprising a top end, a bottom end configured to support the bag in a generally upright position first and second, opposite side edges extending between the top and bottom ends and an opening located on the first side edge, proximate to the top end and closer to the top end than to the bottom end. The opening being made reclosable by magnetic strip 152. Furthermore, Fig. 12 shows sealed portion 156 proximate to the top end.

7. Claims 1, 10, 13, 22, 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,941,643 to Linkiewicz. See Fig. 3.

Linkiewicz discloses a bag comprising a left end, a right end having gusset 56, a top side 42 extending between the left and right ends and a bottom side 52 extending between the left and right ends. The Linkiewicz bag further comprises a pour spout opening located proximate to and oriented substantially parallel to the top side edge and is located closer to the left end than to the right end. The pour spout opening is made reclosable by fastener 48. In order to access the pour spout opening, Linkiewicz provides a tear strip that is removed along line of perforations 46.

Applicant's nomenclature for the ends and sides of the claimed bag do not structurally define over the ends and sides of the Linkiewicz bag as discussed above. Furthermore, the gusset 56 in the right end of the Linkiewicz bag would render it capable of being supported on the right end.

Regarding claims 10 and 22, the seal collinear with the fastener 48 in Fig. 3 meets the recitation "a sealed portion proximate to the top end".

8. Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,164,826 to Petkovsek. See Fig. 5.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 2 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Scholz et al. or Petkovsek.

Scholz et al. and Petkovsek each meet the claimed bag except for the bottom end being generally ovoid in shape. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to make the bottom end of Scholz et al. or Petkovsek generally ovoid in shape or whatever shape was desired or expedient. A change in form or shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, absent any showing of unexpected results.

11. Claims 4 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Linkiewicz and U.S. Patent No. 3,387,701 to Schneider et al.

Linkiewicz discloses the claimed device except for the top side and the left end having an included angle measuring less than 90 degrees. Schneider et al. discloses that it is known in the art to provide an included angle measuring less than 90 degrees between the top side and left end of another dispensing bag. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the top side and left end of Linkiewicz with the included angle measuring less than 90 degrees as in Schneider et al., in order to facilitate dispensing contents from within the bag.

Conclusion

12. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
